

Lesson Selective Gravity Thought Experiment for 5-6th

Sci-Fi Comic Diary – Selective Gravity

Pick your favorite cartoon character and imagine them in a world where Gravity only affects objects heavier than 10 kg — everything lighter floats freely!

What to Do

1. Choose your character: any cartoon hero, comic character, alien.
2. Imagine the world: only heavy objects fall normally; light objects float.
3. Write 3-5 comic-style diary entries, showing:
 - What your character sees
 - How your character feels
 - What they do to adapt to new reality
 - What others around them are doing
4. Optional - Draw your diary like a comic: panels, speech bubbles, funny or magical illustrations.

Upload: PDF, image, or photo of your comic

Be creative — silly, magical, or futuristic adventures are welcome!
